Things to Avoid

From Dr. Ryrie's Thoughts

Is all sin the same or are some sins worse than others?

All sin is the same in the sense that every sin is sin regardless of motivation or how it may affect others. What we might call a "little" sin is sin just as a "big" sin is sin. However, the Bible speaks of differences among sins. Our Lord said, "he who delivered Me to you has the greater sin" (John 19:11). The Lord was speaking of Caiaphas who delivered Jesus to Pilate's sin. Both sinned terribly but one committed a greater sin.

As recorded in Mathew 7:3 the Lord differentiated between log and speck sins. Both need to be removed, but both are sin, though different. We should not think it is OK to overlook speck sin, though different. We should not think it is OK to overlook speck sins just because they are specks. Clear-eyed people who have cast out beams from their own eyes should help cast out speck sins in others.
