Dear Dr. Ryrie,

My most sincere apologies that the "The Gospel of Jesus Christ: An Evangelical Celebration" document was not attached. I was unable to confirm whether you had received a replacement for John Ankerberg's office so I am enclosing another.

It's been so long I was tempted to just let it go, but it is my understanding that this document is of historical proportions and I would not want to be the one who didn't afford you the opportunity to participate as one of its original endorsers.

Although there is no real urgency, the Drafting Committee desires to "go public" with the document and its endorsers in an upcoming issue of Christianity Today, the deadline for which is this Friday, April 23rd. You are certainly welcome to consider it more at your leisure and make a decision at a later date, the only consequence of which shall be that your endorsement would not be included in the referenced publication.

You are very kind to consider this. Thank you in advance for your forgiveness, kindness and consideration.

God bless you.

In His service,

Patti A. Broderick
